Remember Me

Fill not your hearts with pain and sorrow, but remember me in every tomorrow. Remember the joy, the laughter, the smile. I've only gone to rest a little while. Although my leaving causes pain and grief, my going has eased the hurt and given relief. So dry your eyes and remember me, not as now, but as I used to be. I will always remember you and reflect with a smile. Understand I've gone only to rest for a little while. As long as I have the love of each of you, I will live in the hearts of all of you.

“ When I met my cousin Andrew or "Dru" as I called him back in 2011, we hit hit off immediately. We had the same interests and shared a lot of the same views. We continued to keep contact throughout the years and needless to say, I considered him not just a relative but a good friend. My heart is crushed that I'll never be able to text him when the Saints lose a game to the Falcons, never be able to send him the latest Christian rap song I'm listening to. I am going to miss my cousin and a day won't go by that I won't think of him. I wish I could be there with you all to help celebrate his life but definitely look forward to visiting hopefully sometime this summer. Love you guys and I'm praying for all of our strength as a family.

“ I'm going to miss you Drew! I remember you introducing me to Christian rap, joking around with you, and the serious discussions that we would have about family and life. You, your family, friends, and loved ones are in my prayers.

“ Drew I'm going to miss your crazy self. Thank you for being my big little brother. You always made sure to tell me when I was wrong but also how proud you were of me for accomplishing my goals. Sticking around and watching my Bulldogs on Saturday and to NFL on Sunday to me cheering for my raggedy Falcons when playing against your Saints. Glad we were able to cross in this life time. Fly high angel p.s GO FALCONS. Sorry for your loss my thoughts and prayers for the family and friends.
