Footprints

One night I dreamed I was walking along the beach with the Lord. Many scenes from my life flashed across the sky.

In each scene I noticed footprints in the sand. Sometimes there were two sets of footprints, other times there was one only.

This bothered me because I noticed that during the low periods of my life, when I was suffering from anguish, sorrow or defeat, I could see only one set of footprints, so I said to the Lord,

“You promised me Lord, that if I followed you, you would walk with me always. But I have noticed that during the most trying periods of my life there has only been one set of footprints in the sand. Why, when I needed you most, have you not been there for me?”

The Lord replied, “The years when you have seen only one set of footprints, my child, is when I carried you.”

“ My Beautiful, Intelligent Mother. Mother set an insurmountable standard of excellence in homemaking skills, and focused her childrens' attention on academics and character. She made excellent and balanced meals, and sewed beautiful dresses. She was a giving person who enjoyed being a hostess to family gatherings and spearheading church events, PTA events, and family holiday gatherings. Her attention to detail and quality was unrivaled. She was voted most beautiful girl in her high school for three years, and did not run the fourth year so her best friend, Lillian, could win. She was the class Valedictorian. She began working at the Texas highway department when 19 years old and got her own apartment. After my sister and I were adults, she returned to take college classes and work for the San Bernardino County Tax Collector in the accounting department. Mother was a force of nature, and a protector of her children and grandchildren. I am glad I inherited many of her abilities, but I would never claim to equal her ability any Mother categories. I love you Mom, and hope to see you again one day on the 'other side'. Love, Cathy
