Comfort I thank you for the love that each has shown, but now it's time I travel on alone. So grieve a while for me if grieve you must, then let your grief be comforted by trust. It's only a while that we must part, so bless the memories within your heart. I won't be far away; I'll be quite near. Just call me softly and I will hear.--Franklin Lee Stevenson

Veterans Gratitude Always and everywhere, we live with personal remembrances of devoted loved ones and, under God, render thanks and praise to Him for the promise of everlasting life. This truth is perceived by us on a day to day basis as we note the sacrificial acts and personal commitment of our Veterans. Their upholding of such essential values as liberty and justice, individual dignity and national righteousness, ennoble the life of each of us. Through their example we move toward eternity with faith, charity, courage and hope.

The line of life between birth and immortality is one of no certain length. In considering this, as we bid farewell to this honored, respected Veteran, may we be ever more thoughtful, grateful and humble before our Creator as we all await our heavenly reunion.
