“ Writing words of sympathy are never a welcomed task. Finding the right words to express my condolences are never easy and can be a very emotional. My words of sympathy feel inadequate for a loss so great. We all lose friends... we lose them in death, to distance, and over time. But even though they may be lost, hope is not. The key is to keep them in our hearts, and when the time is right, we can pick up the friendship right where we left off. Even the lost find their way home, when we leave the light on. To my dearest friend Sha’Kira, the loss of our friendship through your unexpected death is cruel and cold. Warmth is found through our fond memories, so I will curl up with them whenever I need too and treasure them with all my heart. I am better for knowing you, better for loving you, better for having met you. May you be as blessed in the next life, my dearest friend, as I was in this one by knowing you.
